ABOUT US

Spartacus is like a blank piece of paper for writing your new stories. Every trip should be an unforgettable journey, full of unbelievable experiences and beautiful memories. We want you to enjoy it either on a lazy vacation or active adrenaline-full activities.

So, the story of us is actually the story of you. It is not important who we are, the important thing is what we can do for you and your loved ones. We've designed all of our processes from development to final production assembly with extra care on each detail. With thoughts, that every finished product is perfect for you and that it will become your base for adventure stories, you will share with family and friends.

Our focus are innovations, modern technology, careful production process and most important user experience. Our philosophy is to produce extremely lightweight and durable RVs, with advanced design lines on the outside and spacious functional solutions on the inside.

Our mission is to make the best vacation units in which every customer will enjoy adventures and experience unforgettable moments.
